

REGISTRATION NOW OPEN FOR WINGS FOR AUTISM®

Free event is January 25, 2020 at AVL

The fifth annual Wings for Autism® at Asheville Regional Airport is Saturday, January 25, 2020 from 9am to noon. The free event provides an immersive, simulated airport experience for people on the autism spectrum and their families or caregivers. Participants will arrive at the airport, check in for their "flight" at the ticket counter, go through airport security, wait at the gate, enjoy a meal, and board the plane for their pretend trip.

Travel is a wonderful experience for many; however, for our autistic friends, the air travel experience can be unfamiliar, potentially stressful, and feel out of reach. We are pleased to partner with The Arc of Buncombe County, Allegiant, Worldwide Flight Service, the Transportation Security Administration and Bojangles' of WNC to provide a practice airport experience to help our autistic friends and neighbors become more comfortable with the airport and airplane environments.

Learn more and register today!

AMERICAN AIRLINES IS GROWING AGAIN

More flights to Dallas & Philadelphia coming this spring

We are pleased to share the news that American Airlines has added more flights from AVL! A second daily flight to Philadelphia and a second daily flight to Dallas/Fort Worth both start in March, 2020. Nonstop to Philadelphia will now depart twice daily at 1:11pm and 6pm, and nonstop flights to Dallas/Fort Worth will depart daily at 6am and 4:08pm.

BOOK TODAY!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!
And happy adventuring!

VISIT FLYAVL.COM

DECEMBER 2019

Copyright © 2019. All Rights Reserved.